WELCOME HOME.

Portsmouth the Scene of an Ovation to Arctic Heroes.

The Rescue Expedition Receive their Share of Glory.

Speeches by Chandler and other Distinguished Men.

Honors to Arctic Heroes

PORTSMOUTH, August 4.—The city is thronged, public and private buildings are decorated, and "Welcome to Our Arctic Heroes" placarded on bunting everywhere. The harbor is filled with crafts laden with people. At 11 20 a. m. Commander Schley, Lieutenant Emory and Commander Coffin disembarked. Following them were other officers of the Greeley expedition and sailors of the Thetis, Bear and Alert. They were enthusiastically greeted as they landed. The crowd passed forward to shake their hands. A roar of welcome went up when at 11 o'clock Greeley was discovered with his comrades coming towards the landing in the admiral's barge. All were placed in coaches and immediately driven to the Rockingham house, it having been decided that they should not appear in the procession.

At 1.20 the procession began to march. The streets were packed. Applause greeted the sailors of the relief squadron. The ovation continued through the entire route. Commander Schley, Lieut Emery and Commander Coffin were received with tremendous applause. So were Secretary Chandler, General Hazen, Commodore Wells, and Acting Admiral Luce. As the head of the procession neared the Rockingham house where Lieutenant Greeley and the survivors were waiting the review, the pressure of the crowd became so great that the column was delayed several minutes. Lieutenant Greeley and his comrades were seated upon a balcony. Cheer after cheer greeted them. As the crew of the Thetis, Bear and Alert passed Greeley bowed very low and seemed to look his gratitude to the men who so recently rescued him from an Arctic grave.

Among the prominent men on the stand were Secretary Chandler, General Hazen, Governor Hale, Mayor Lathrop of Dover, the mayor of Newburyport, Samuel J. Randall, Congressman Robinson of New York, officers of the relief expedition and the North Atlantic squadron, and members of the city governments of many New England cities. The procession was dismissed at 2 o'clock. A party of invited guests were entertained at dinner by the city of Portsmouth.

A meeting of citizens was held this evening to extend the official welcome of the city to Lieutenant Greeley and surviving companions. It was largely attended and was characterized by unbounded enthusiasm. In the auditorium were Portsmouth's foremost citizens. On the stage were the officers of the Arctic fleets. In the front seats in the orchestra sat the crews of the Thetis, Bear and Alert. They were enthusiastically received on entering the hall, as were their officers, who appeared shortly afterward. W. E. Chandler, secretary of the navy, General Hazen, chief signal officer, Admiral Luce, Commodore Wells, General B F. Butler, Congressmen S. J. Randall and Robinson, General Hale, of New Hampshire, and Senator Hale, of Maine, occupied seats on the stage. The meeting was called to order by Rev. W. A. Eastaby. Rev. W. H. Alden made a prayer, and was followed by Mayor Treat of Portsmouth who read an address in which he extended the hospitalities of the city of Portsmouth to Greeley and his little band. Rev. Mr. McGinley then announced that a committee of citizens had secured Hon. Wm. E. Chandler's consent to act as chairman. When Chandler came forward to address the meeting he was very warmly greeted. When he referred to the efforts S. J. Randall in the house of representatives and Senator Hale took in behalf of the Greeley relief bill as well as the noble work of Commanders Schley and Coffin and Lieut. Emory the audience became almost wild with enthusiasm. Mr. Chandler in his address told the story of organization and object of the Greeley expedition.

Chandler was followed by Senator Hale, Congressman Randall and General Butler. Owing to the fatigues of the day the members of the Greeley party were unable to be present. A letter from Lieut. Greeley was read conveying appreciation of the honor and the marked hospitality of their reception.

French Press Comments

PARIS, August 4.—One section of the Paris press demands the recall of Waddington, French ambassador at London, as the author of the Anglo-French agreement which was defeated in the Egyptian conference. It is reported Waddington offers to resign. The Figaro referring to the subject says: "Waddington's successor must display greater energy against the spread of English power. French and English interests are now completely opposed and a conflict is inevitable in the near future." The rupture of the conference, the paper says, is grave enough, but it will not have to announce that the latent conflict has passed into open hostilities.

The Cholera.

MARSEILLES, August 4.—Between 9 and 2 to-day three deaths here of cholera.

TOULON, August 4.—Four deaths of cholera here last night. Physicians fear that the return of people to unhealthy lodgings will cause a fresh outbreak and possibly an outbreak of smallpox and typhoid.

TOULON, 6:30 p. m., August 4. No deaths from cholera to-day. The total number of cases now under treatment is 100. There was one death at Lazaus and two at Montfort sur Argens.

MARSEILLES, 7 P. M., August 4.—There have been 7 deaths from cholera since 11 this morning. Only three cases were admitted into Pharo hospital to-day. Six cases are being treated there now. Ten were discharged to-day.

American Frigate Ashore

LONDON, August 3.—An American frigate; believed to be the Lancaster, is ashore to the southwest of the Shingle bank off Horst Castle.

Sunk at Sea

LISBON, August 4.—The British brig Belle Star, from Nova Scotia for Queenstown, and the Richard Owen, Cardiff for St. John's, were in collision at sea. The latter sank. Four of her crew drowned. The rest of the crew are at Queenstown.

The Lydian Monarch Overdue

NEW YORK, August 4.—Agent O'Connor, of the Monarch Steamship line, says Captain Huggett, of the Lydian Monarch is a most efficient and skillful officer. The steamer had six weeks provisions, and he has no doubt the vessel will arrive safely.

A Narrow Escape

NEW YORK, August 4.—Twenty three occupants of a tenement on Charlton street were endangered by fire this morning, but narrowly escaped in their night clothes by ladders from the street and by fleeing to the roof. Nearly all were slightly burned, but none seriously. No lives were lost.

Irving Hall's Claim

NEW YORK August 4.—Irving Hall democracy held a ratification meeting to-night at Irving hall. Despite unfavorable weather the hall was crowded and enthusiasm great. Robert B. Nonny presided and in his opening speech said that in the convention none had worked harder than Irving Hall to secure the nomination for Gov. Cleveland.

The Mahdi's Operations.

LONDON, August 4.—According to latest advices the mahdi is now fighting negro tribes around Gadier who refused to join him. It is asserted he dispatched a force to Khartoum under orders to take Gordon alive or dead. He has ordered wells between Korosko and Berber filled up. The sultan of Zanzibar has sent a message to Gordon inviting him to Zanzibar.

Cholera Fever.

NEW YORK, August 4.—A case of sudden death from a disease resembling yellow fever was investigated by health officials Saturday. The victim was a sailor on the steamer Acompilte which had come direct from Panama. After thorough investigation health authorities say the case is one of Choleraic fever. Orders were issued to bury the body at once.

An English Demonstration.

LONDON, August 4.—A vast reform demonstration occurred at Birmingham to-day. John Bright and Joseph Chamberlain, president of the board of trade, were in the procession, which was of enormous length. Thousands crowded the streets along the route. Two hundred thousand people assembled upon the grounds where the demonstration took place. The meeting comprised nine divisions. Excellent order; weather fine.

Santa Fe Earnings.

BOSTON, August 4.—The statement of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company shows gross earnings for June of $1,254,029; operating expenses exclusive of taxes $801,534; net earnings $452,495. For six months ended June, '84, gross earnings were $7,646,815; operating expenses, $4,110,875; net earning, $3,535,940. At a meeting of the Mexican Central railroad directors to-day the resignation of President Nickerson was formally presented. The thanks of the company were voted him and Nickerson responded.

Base Ball.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Nationals 2, Baltimore Unions 7.

CHICAGO, August 4.—Chicago 0, Cleveland 2.

PITTSBURG, August 4.—Allegheny 2, Brooklyns 4.

INDIANAPOLIS, August 4.—Toledos 11, Indianapolis 7.

RICHMOND, August 4.—The Virginians having resigned from the eastern league and admitted to the American association will play their first game to-morrow with the Athletics of Philadelphia.

FORT WAYNE, August 4.—The Fort Wayne base ball club of the northwestern league has disbanded; financial embarrassment.

Alabama Election.

MONTGOMERY, August 4.—There is no opposition whatever to democrats on the state ticket and very little of a party character in any county contests. In consequence there was no excitement except where candidates were running in counties that made opposition nominations and these were many; thus the local issues of the democrats brought out fair vote. The hottest fight was in Mobile between the democratic nominee and independent ticket and in Birmingham between democrats and a combination of republicans and greenbackers. These two points were the battle grounds of the state. Not half a dozen republican legislative candidates were running in the state. The vote in this city was about 1,800, all democrats as there was no opposition.

MOBILE, August 4.—The state and county elections in Alabama passed off quietly. There being but one state ticket, that headed by Governor E. A. O'Neill, the result can be anticipated.

National Guard Reunion.

KANSAS CITY, August 4.—The fourth biennial reunion of the Colorado National Guards union of the United States begins here to day and continues until Friday. Several hundred members representing various companies throughout the union have arrived and the number will be materially augmented to-day at Athletic park. The reunion is in charge of Brigadier General Hiram Berry of St. Louis.

KANSAS CITY, August 4.—The inaugural meeting of the national guards reunion was held to-night at Kump's hall. The address of welcome was delivered by J. Dalles Bowser of Gale City; response by Major Albert Burgess of St. Louis. Addresses were also made by Major Talbott and ex Congressman Van Horne. Through a combination of untoward circumstances the session does not give promise of success. The attendance is smaller than at any previous reunion, not justifying the establishment of a camp to-morrow. The programme otherwise, however, will be carried out as projected.

DISASTER RECORD.

Several Persons Buried by the Fall of a Hotel.

The Pennsylvania Depot in Jersey City Burned.

Steamboat Collisions Destroy Life and Property.

Buried Alive.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—The back part of the United States hotel building, situated on Pennsylvania avenue, a short distance west of the Capitol, fell in without warning this evening and buried in the ruins a number of its inmates. The building has a frontage of 125 feet on the avenue and a depth of 185 feet, the rear end opening upon an alley leading from Third to Four and a Half street. A small portion of the rear wall was the first to give away, and a general collapse of the whole rear portion immediately followed, sending up a great cloud of dust. A general fire alarm was sounded, which brought to the scene of the disaster a number of fire engines and hook and ladder companies, and a force of police.

There were about forty five persons in the hotel at the time the disaster occurred, including the guests and employes, and it was impossible at first to ascertain how many were buried in the mass of debris which occupied the ground upon which the rear portion of the building had stood.

Cries and groans could be heard from the ruins, showing that all who were there imprisoned were not dead.

A large force of men went to work at once and in the course of an hour Ernest Snooks, a boy 11 years of age, and Annie Dickens, the colored chambermaid, were taken out. Both were alive but badly injured. In the meantime it had been ascertained that the number of persons who were buried in the ruins did not probably exceed seven, viz: Mrs. Belden, the wife of the proprietor, Ernest Snook, a boy 11 years of age, the son of a restaurant keeper next door, and five colored servants. It is feared that those who have not yet been rescued are dead.

That part of the building which fell contained chiefly rooms appropriated to the use of the employes of the hotel, and it is believed that none of the guests have been either killed or injured. The United States hotel is one of the oldest structures in the city, and it is said to have been for a long time in an unsafe condition. The barkeeper is reported to have made complaint to the inspector of buildings some days ago with regard to its condition, dangerous cracks in the walls having become visible on the outside. That portion which fell was erected 25 years ago and was five stories high.

Mrs. Belden, wife of the proprietor of the hotel, was rescued alive, at half-past eleven o'clock, after having been imprisoned four hours. After the firemen and volunteers had worked two hours in digging down into the debris from the street, a force of firemen under Captain Cronin entered from the front of the building against the back of which the timbers and brick had partly lodged, and hearing groans worked their way back by removing some of the timbers and supporting others. They finally got near enough to Mrs. Belden to talk with her and eventually to hand her some water and whisky. She was not crushed, but was held down by her clothes and penned in by the fallen timbers. Jacks were brought and the weight was lifted up, while saws and axes were used to cut a way to her. At last the rescuers got close enough to cut her clothing loose, when they were enabled to extricate her. She was apparently not severely injured, but was very much exhausted, and fainted as she was carried out.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—The dead body of Addie Fletcher, (colored) head chambermaid, was recovered from the ruins of the United States hotel this morning. It is now thought but one victim's remains will be found. This is Henry Hale (colored). The main parlor of the hotel fronting on Avenue P is intact but under the guard of police. As large a force of laborers as can be advantageously employed are at work and removing the debris.

The body of young Hall was recovered this afternoon. Many people last night and this morning asserted that complaint had long since been made of the unsafe condition of the building; that servants occupying the rear portion had been in constant fear, and workmen engaged in making repairs and others had frequently declared a collapse imminent. On Friday the barkeeper sent complaint to the inspector of buildings that the walls were caving and unsafe. This report was received Saturday and referred to an assistant who had not reported. The back of the building adjoining had been found to be in a bad condition by the health inspector. An examination of the debris shows that nearly every brick taken out is almost entirely free from mortar, which would indicate that dirt and sand instead of mortar had been used in the brick work. If the accident had happened an hour earlier there is no telling how many lives would have been lost, as between forty and fifty guests were at that time taking supper. It was found necessary to day to pull down the walls of Browning's coffee mills, which adjoin the hotel, and were badly injured by the crash last night.

A Destructive Fire.

NEW YORK, August 4.—The Pennsylvania Central railroad depot in Jersey City is ablaze and just now (11.30) seems doomed.

NEW YORK, August 4, 11.45 p. m.—The fire at the Pennsylvania railroad depot in Jersey City is spreading. The heat is so great that firemen and employes are prevented saving anything on shore while tug boats cannot get near to tow out ferry boats and freight boats and they must go in the general destruction. The depot piers are also burning and this involves the loss of all freight and cars upon them. The wind is light, yet sufficient to give the fire a northerly direction. The loss will be very heavy.

NEW YORK, August 4, 11.30 a. m.—The Pennsylvania railroad depot and ferry house are destroyed. The flames however burn furiously and have attacked the Adams express pier. That portion nearest the shore is on fire. The entire fire department of Jersey City is at work pouring water upon the flames, while river boats are contributing a number of heavier streams. The Pennsylvania railroad depot and ferry houses being of wood filled with every combustible material, the flames made sure and rapid work, mocking the company's organization of employes and defying the laders of the city fire department while there was a stick of wood standing for the flames to feed on.

NEW YORK, 5 A. M., August 5.—The fire was caused by the explosion of gas in the ferry entrance. The flames spread rapidly to the slips and railway depot. The Brooklyn annex slip and four ferry slips, railroad and ferry offices with the waiting rooms have burned. The flames are advancing in the depot.

A strong south wind was blowing at the time. The explosion carried the fire to all portions of the waiting room and steps of the ferry and the immense railway waiting room. The entire structure was frame, single story, with the exception of a few offices above the ferry entrance. The steamboats Richard Stocton, Pennsylvania Railroad, Newburg, excursion steamers and the Thomas P Way, of Steele & Candit's Bay Ridge line, lying at the dock adjoining the most southerly of the five slips with two ferry boats laid up for the night were pulled into the stream by tugs uninjured. Cars in the depot and on the Adams express pier north ferry slip were pulled out of danger. The fire has now consumed five slips and flakeds connecting them. The ferry and railroad offices and waiting room with contents of the main depot, having brick walls and iron and glass roof will probably be saved.

JERSEY CITY, August 5—5 A. M.—The fire will be confined to present limits. A shed in the Adams Express dock is slightly damaged. About 100 feet of the main depot is destroyed. The remainder is intact. S. H. Eastaugh, 315 East Eighth street, New York, a man who was at the ferry entrance when the explosion occurred, was struck by timber and glass and badly hurt. His lady friend was severely burned and taken to Christ's hospital. Henri Thorle, of Marion, employed on the Brooklyn annex, had his right arm severed by broken glass. So far as known no lives are lost.

A Horror on the Thames.

LONDON, August 4.—Particulars of the collision and sinking of the steamer Dione in the Thames Saturday night state that there were a great many pleasure passengers on board the vessel. There was a clear moon last night. The collision occurred about midnight with the large iron steamer Camden just on Gravesend. The Dione's port side was stove in and the vessel keeled over and sunk. Those saved rushed on deck and jumped overboard half dressed. They were rescued by tugs. The scenes were heartrending. Ladies implored men to save their children. Many women were carrying infants. One woman placed her infant on a floating crate. The crate drifted away but was found later, and the infant alive. The captain of the Dione was saved but was badly hurt.

The Markets.

NEW YORK, August 4. Money easy 1½ to 2, closing offered 1½; prime paper 5½ to 6, sterling exchange quiet 4 82, demand 4 84; governments steady; railways firm; state securities quiet. Business was resumed at the stock exchange at 11 a. m., as usual on Mondays during the summer months. At the opening Western Union and Pacific Mail were strong at 1¼ and ½ per cent higher, other active shares irregular. Soon afterward a reactionary movement set in and prices declined ½ to 3 per cent. Before mid-day there was a change for the better. Western Union and Pacific Mail were first to advance. During the remainder of the day speculation was dull but strong with the shares mentioned as features. Western Union was actively dealt in, selling up to 72½ on reports of largely increased business and heavy transfers of stock to investors. At the close Western Union reacted ¾ per cent to 64½, but generally the market left off firm. Compared with Saturday prices are ½ to 1½ per cent higher, except for Central Pacific, which is ½ per cent lower, Canadian Pacific 1¼, Lake Shore ¾, Omaha ¾ and Union Pacific ½ per cent. Transactions 250,000 shares.

The week opened on an extremely dull market for mining shares. Sales at the first two calls amounted to only 100 shares, and of this 1000 were in Sutro Tunnel, which sold 21 and 20. Caledonia B H sold 1.10, Iron Silver 1.25, Consolidated Lacine 31 to 32. Sales of mining stock during the afternoon were Central Arizona 22, Consolidated Pacific 53, Horn Silver 6 50, Iron Silver 1.25, Chrysolite 80, Sutro Tunnel 21.

SUNDAY HAPPENINGS.

Henry M. Stanley, the African explorer, was entertained at a banquet at Ostend.

Seventeen persons were drowned in the Thames by a collision between two steamers.

Wilmer Brothers, bankers, at Suspension Bridge, New York, have made an assignment.

Alton, New York, near Binghampton, was half destroyed by fire. Loss, $75,000.

A block of business houses at San Saba, Texas, burned. Loss, $20,000; insurance, $1,800.

Mary Jane Williams, a depraved character in Columbus, Ohio, was found dead with the skull crushed. Two arrests have been made.

Robert T. Lynch, editor of the Los Angeles Herald, died suddenly of apoplexy at Santa Monica. He was fifty years of age and a native of Pittsburg, Pennsylvania.

Arthur Joselyn, a Union Pacific brakeman, was seriously injured by falling under his train in West Denver. His left arm will have to be amputated.

Professor Faville made an official report to the Cattle Growers' association stating that the infected cattle near Pueblo were suffering from Texas fever.

Sexton and Redmond, who are coming to America on the steamer Nevada, were presented with addresses by the municipal authorities of Queenstown and the land league.

MONTHLY MEETING

Of the City Fathers of Colorado Springs.

The Usual Routine Business Disposed of.

Licenses, Purchase of Cheyenne Canon, Etc., Acted on.

The first regular meeting of the city council for August was held in the council chamber last night, and called to order at eight fifteen. Mayor Humphrey filled the chair and there were present Aldermen Hennessy, Draper, Ralstin, Jones, Hughes, Strickler and Purcell. The minutes of the last regular meeting were read and approved without objection. Under the head of petitions Mr. F. E. Robinson asked that he be allowed the privilege of laying a plank side walk on the corner of Pike's Peak avenue and Tejon.

Mr. Jones said that he could not see how Mr. Robinson could be allowed that privilege. Alderman Draper moved that the matter be referred to the committee on streets, alleys ditches with instructions to report.

Mr. Jones said that in order to dispose of the matter he would move that the petition be disposed of at once.

Dr. Strickler said that if Mr. Jones' motion was to be entertained, one section of the side walk ordinance might as well be repealed. Mr. Jones withdrew his motion and seconded Mr. Draper's motion, which was carried.

City Treasurer Martin's report for the month of July was received and placed on file. As was also the report of Justice Fields for the same period.

A petition was received from S. M. McCutchen, Wm. Clark and others for an extention of water main from block 239 to a connection with the main in block 233. Referred to water works committee.

Alderman Hughes recommended that the city hall be provided with 100 chairs, platform and table. D. H. Fairley had agreed to supply the same for $100 under contract. Mr. Hughes also reported that a contract had been perfected with the Colorado Springs company for a lease of the iron springs for a term of fifty years.

Mr. Jones, supported by Alderman Ralstin, moved that the committee be empowered to go ahead, improve the springs, lay the pipe, carry out the contract, etc. The motion was adopted.

Alderman Draper brought up the matter in regard to the binding of eighteen copies of the ordinances for the use of the councilmen and city officials.

On motion it was ordered that eighteen copies of the city ordinances bound in accordance with the agreement, $1.50 apiece be procured.

Alderman Jones, chairman of the police committee, reported that to properly cement the floor, remove the cells and change the doors in the city jail, would cost in the neighborhood of $200, and he would recommend that the improvements be made.

Alderman Strickler moved that an estimate be procured and report submitted to the council which was carried.

Alderman Jones brought to the notice of the council the fact that one of the regular policemen was sick and unable to attend to his duties, and he would recommend that a man be appointed to fill his place at least for a month.

In this connection Mr. Jones urged the adoption of a police ordinance the same as that in use at Denver. As it was there was considerable complaint as to the present efficiency of the force, whether well founded or not.

When it came to a report from the water works committee Mr. Ralstin said that Mr. Hayden had been sick, and in relation to securing the right of way through the Iron Springs company's property further time was granted in which to report.

Alderman Strickler moved the repeal of Section 3 of the sidewalk ordinance, which repeal under the rules would go over until the next meeting. Mr. Strickler said that under that section the sidewalks could be repaired only under certain conditions, and unless a change was made there would be considerable difficulty experienced.

As to complaints from the users of water in the northern part of the city who maintained that while water was being drawn for irrigation there was none for domestic use no action was taken.

The following bills were allowed:

Republican Printing Co., printing	$ 7 01
C. W. Morris, public grounds	10 00
Sweet and ditch work	127 50
A. E. Hart, meals for prisoners	4 80
E. C. Bartlett, blacksmithing	6 20
Geo. Cant & Co., numbering houses	20 00
A. A. McGovney, collecting taxes	24 50
Colorado Springs Gas & Coke Co., gas	14 60
C. E. Parkes, hardware	4 05
A. Swartz, water account	13 05
W. H. Body & Co., sacks	2 50
Cressey & Thomas, lumber	14 25
Howbert Bros., stationery	5 05
Peter Downs, carting	4 50
Cemetery work	24 00
John Fields, justice fees	13 00
Ignatius Bentley, attorney fees	125 00
Salary roll for July	800 00

An account of John Fields for $13 was disallowed; one of Simmons & Daniels for livery, $17 50 laid on the table, and another for constable fees, presented by A. B. Whitmore, of $41, referred to the city attorney.

The city clerk said that an ordinance had been introduced on which action should be taken in regard to the use of nozzles for irrigation. As the committee on water works was not prepared to report, and Alderman Draper thought that it was unfair in Mr. Bent's absence to consider the matter, it was laid over.

Major Maconber complained of the scuttle on the engine house and he was given to understand that the difficulty would be removed.

The question of filling the place on the police force made vacant by the sickness of Policeman Johnson was called up for consideration. Marshal Hall said that if Mr. Johnson got well enough to fill the place again he wanted him on the force.

Randolph, Kerns and Wright were nominated to fill the place for one month. A vote was taken with the following result:

Wright	1
Kerns	2
Randolph	4

As a majority vote of the whole council was necessary a second ballot was called and resulted the same as the first one cast, as did also the third, with the exception of Kerns, who received Wright's vote. The fourth ballot resulted the same, and on motion of Alderman Jones the election was postponed until the next meeting.

Alderman Jones brought up the matter of granting licenses to the druggists and said that some complaint had been made as to the requirements of the bond and license given. Mr. Jones read over the ordinance and explained the requirements set forth. He said that it was claimed that the ordinance could not be carried out and he doubted whether the applicants intended taking out license or not. A motion was made by Mr. Jones to the effect that the city attorney confer with the druggists, see what the objections were and report to the council.

On motion of Mr. Draper the committee on public grounds and buildings was instructed to furnish the city hall in accordance with the report submitted. Adopted.

Alderman Hughes brought up the Cheyenne Cañon matter and moved that a committee in behalf of the city be appointed to confer with the owners of Cheyenne Cañon in regard to the purchase price thereof.

Alderman Strickler amended that the matter be left to the committee on public buildings and grounds. Carried.

The city clerk was by motion instructed to procure bids for the city printing for the next year.

Adjournment was then taken.

Barrett at Denver.

DENVER, August 4.—Lawrence Barrett as Master Yorick, in "Yorick's Love," opened this season in the Tabor Grand Opera house this evening before an audience that tested the capacity of the house. The appearance of Mr. Barrett was greeted with enthusiastic applause, which lasted fully two minutes. His portrayal of Master Yorick and the rendition of the different characters by his excellent company could not fail to gain the applause which was enthusiastically accorded. The engagement promises to be one of the most brilliant ever recorded in the history of Denver.

New Freight Rates.

The new freight rate that went into effect yesterday materially affects the interests of Colorado Springs. The rate from the Missouri river to Colorado Springs is the same as that to Denver. Heretofore the rate from Denver to Colorado Springs has been five cents per 100 pounds, while under the new adjustment it is 43 cents first-class, 35 second, 31 third, 24 fourth, 23 fifth, 18 sixth, 13 seventh, and 12 eighth. Now our merchants can receive goods from the east and sell at the same rate as Denver. This can apply as to passenger rates. When the low prices prevailed our people could go to Denver, purchase their goods and have a pleasant time. Now they cannot make any money by paying $6.50 to go to Denver and return and pay the same profit on goods as in Colorado Springs.

Reunion of Chaplains

OCEAN GROVE, N. J., August 4.—The final services of the reunion of chaplains, union and confederate, and Christian and sanitary commissioners were attended by a large number of persons. George H. Stewart and General Clinton B. Fisk delivered eulogies of Bishop Simpson. Reminiscences were heard from chaplains and others, after which all joined hands and sang "Blest be the Tie that Binds Our Hearts in Christian Love." This closed a most interesting session.

The cholera conference which was fixed for Thursday next at Washington, has been postponed in consequence of the favorable reports from the infected districts of Europe.

The London Observer claims that although the breach between Davitt's friends and the Parnellites is closed, it is not healed. It looks for another rupture.

The cardinals and bishops who are visiting Rome have been directed by the pope to return to their dioceses and prepare for a cholera visitation.

JOHN A. LOGAN, of Illinois.

It is said there are seventy special timber, land, and other agents of the interior department in Denver.

The News-Democrat understands how to publish a tax list. It makes the list for Gunnison county twenty-five and a half columns long.

The eastern investors in cattle companies in Colorado, Wyoming, and Nebraska are beginning to be nervous. They have reason to be. The companies that have been selling two-year old stock in order to declare dividends are bound to come to grief. But the trouble is not with the cattle business, which rightly managed pays a large return to the investor. It is with the organizers of these companies who have overstocked them and paid dividends that were not earned.

The nomination of Mr. Hendricks has no meaning, unless it says the democratic party has been right in all its contests of the last twenty-five years and is not ashamed of its record. Just what Mr. Hendricks represents on the ticket cannot be too clearly emphasized. He represents the disunion element during the war, the anti-human rights, and the greenback repudiation element after the war. We presume that this will not be confessed, but it is true. The republicans have a candidate who needs no equivocation as to what he represents. He represents the citizen soldier who saved the republic.

The question of the purchase of the Cheyenne cañons came up in the council last night and the matter was referred to the committee on public parks to make inquiries regarding the price of the cañons. This was wise and timely. Of course the council does not commit itself to definite action by doing this. It has been said that there is a disposition to sell at reasonable figures. If so the city should know it by some definite proposition and then decide whether it can afford it. The cañons may soon pass into other hands and then it may be impossible to purchase them except at an extortionate price. If ever anything can be done by the city to make these cañons free, it is now.

Mr. George, the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Express, discusses Senator Hill's Postal Telegraph bill at length and closes with this emphatic and timely appeal:

His [Mr. Hill's] senatorial term expires March 4, 1885, and the legislature that is elected this fall in that state will have to elect Mr. Hill's successor. This will call forth all the energies of the anti-monopolists in that state. All honest men in Colorado—democrats, republicans and anti-monopolists should see that in voting for members of the legislature they vote for men who will vote to return that honest and upright man, N. P. Hill. For fear of a misconstruction, I wish to say here that Senator Hill does not belong to that party that I have ever belonged, viz: the democratic party. Senator Hill is a republican, but above all he is an honest man. While I was ever a democrat, yet I am an anti-monopolist, and that is the faith of Mr. Hill, therefore he is a man whom any man can support, be he democrat or republican, provided he is an anti-monopolist. Senator Hill having incurred the hatred of the worst elements of the two parties, in fighting for the rights of the people, it behooves the people who would be free to stand by their friends, no matter in what party found.

We most heartily endorse the following in The Opinion regarding the very indecent way that some papers are attacking Mr. Cleveland:

We regard the discussion in the party papers of the advisability and decency of the publication of the details of the Cleveland scandal as a good sign. It is an indication that the political press is at last beginning to recognize the fact that mere nastiness and personal abuse are no longer potent as weapons in a campaign. The reasons for this are plain enough. There has been so much of slanderous and irresponsible lying about candidates in past contests, so much of virulent and malicious attack upon private character, that the public has lost all confidence in the personal statements made by the press during a political struggle. The fact that the discovery that a man is an infamous rascal is always coincident with his nomination for an office has happened so often that it awakens suspicion. Where the motive is so palpably sinister it is not worth while to sift the stories. Nor is it possible to sift them, especially one of the kind made against Cleveland, in a way to be at all satisfactory in results. Every scandal of the sort in which the democratic candidate is involved has two sides, but the other side can never be clearly explained. The sympathy of the public will always be with the women, and Cleveland is showing his wisdom by remaining quiet under the accusation. He cannot do otherwise. The main reason why such stuff should not be printed, however, is because it is unfit to appear in a decent newspaper. It is not the sort of reading matter which a man should admit into his family circle, it certainly can serve neither a great moral nor a great political purpose. It is to the credit of republican newspapers that they have, very generally, let the nasty mess alone.

GUNNISON CORRESPONDENCE.

Mining Activity Over the Range—New and Rich Discoveries.

CRESTED BUTTE, Colo., July 30, 1884.
To the Editor of the GAZETTE.

The sampling works constructed here by Rose Reed & Co. were to have started up today, but some fault has been found in the shafting, and Mr. Rose has had to run down to Gunnison for material to remedy the break. By Monday next, at latest, however the works will be in full operation, and will prove the inauguration of a season of great prosperity to Crested Butte. The miners in the vicinity express their intention to aid the enterprise by every means in their power, and a considerable quantity of ore has already been hauled in to the works for sampling. The first lot of 2,800 pounds was brought in from the Sunset mine, four miles from Gothic and twelve miles from here, by Low Wait, one of the owners of the mine, who was also one of the first settlers of Colorado Springs, where his family now resides. This ore shows, by assay, 126 ounces silver and 50 per cent lead, and there is a good vein of it. The mine is owned by Low Wait and Geo. A. Jones, who are associated together in the publication of the Silver Record," and, if I remember correctly, Jones was, in days of yore, a compositor on the Colorado Springs GAZETTE. Should this Sunset ore run anything like the assays show, Messrs. Wait & Jones have a bonanza, as will be seen when I tell you that for the character of ore predominant in this country Messrs. Rose, Reed & Co. pay $17.00 net for 40-oz. ore. If, therefore, the Sunset will pan out 126 ounces and 50 per cent lead, you can see that it is verily a "bonanza." This is the first ore shipped from the mine, and we have scores of similar mines within 40 to 50 miles of Crested Butte, which will likewise be induced to become shipping and paying properties by the establishment of the sampling works here. They will have almost as great an effect on our prosperity as would the building of smelting works. The Black Queen mine, on Sheep mountain, close to Crystal City, 20 miles from Crested Butte, came close on Wait's heels in patronizing the sampler. They made their first shipment of ore to it, sending in nearly 4 tons. Mr. Warren, son of Dr. Warren, of North Weber street, your city, made an assay from the lot, and got 552 ounces of silver per ton from it. Young Warren has been engaged as the official assayer for the sampling works and is rapidly establishing a reputation as a careful, correct and conscientious, follower of his profession. He is a graduate of the assay department of your Colorado college, of whom the faculty and your people may well be proud.

This Black Queen mine is a new discovery and the immense riches laid bare in the shallow development so far made in it is directing great attention to this mining section, and the result will doubtless be other discoveries of similar or greater wealth. Mr. Ryan and other owners of the Horn Silver mine of Utah, who were recently here to inaugurate extensive operations on their "Richmond" mine in Poverty gulch, were very much astonished at the mineral wealth they saw here—so much so that they expressed their intention of soon returning with a view to investing in our mines. Mr. Ryan was very urgent in his request for the "Black Queen" boys to set a price on their property, but they resisted, and will work the mine themselves, for all there's in it. And I think they were wise, for they have undoubtedly one of the richest mines in Colorado. Ryan was also much astonished at the character of coke the Colorado Coal & Iron Co. are turning out from their ovens here, and says that, so soon as the Utah consumers of that article learn what we are producing, we will have more than we can do to supply the demand, with four times the number of ovens we now have at work. He took samples of the coke with him, and will show it to the Utah people. It has only to be seen by a judge of the article to make its mark as the best coke in the world to-day. From remarks dropped by Mr. Ryan and his friends it would not surprise me at all were they to undertake the establishment of very extensive smelting works at Crested Butte.

The Colorado Coal & Iron company are now working in their new opening on the mesa, where they have struck a splendid seam of coking coal from 5 to 7 feet thick. This coal is a grand article for stoves and locomotives and the demand for it for such purposes is rapidly increasing. Heretofore it has been used principally around Gunnison and Leadville, or at points on the Denver & Rio Grande west of Cañon City, but now that the Colorado Coal & Iron company, the Denver & Rio Grande and the Denver & Rio Grande Western may be expected to work in harmony and that the Colorado Coal & Iron company can make shipping rates upon which they can rely to last for some length of time, they can establish a demand for this coal) and also for the coke made from it) at Salt Lake and in Utah and at points along the line of the Central and Union Pacific roads, which will largely increase their output and the number of men employed here. I have it from high authority that they expect to be shipping at least 500 tons per day of this coal alone, inside of sixty days from date, and to increase their shipments right along. Of course the coke output and shipments will also increase, and Crested Butte before the year 1884 has expired, will rival some of the large Pennsylvania towns as a producer and shipper of coal and coke of a quality unrivaled anywhere.

Maybe your people do not know that the coke is made almost entirely from the coal dust which would otherwise go to waste or blow away, but such is in fact the case.

I saw Low Wait to day, over from Gothic. He is enthusiastic, as well he may be, over the great Sylvanite silver mine, located near Gothic, which, from now on, will be one of the great, regular producers of this country. He tells me that no one would believe what he could tell of the richness of the ore, unless they could see the beautiful masses of wire, ruby and native silver now ready to ship from it. He states that this mine has sacked and will shortly ship ore to the extent of $200,000 to $300,000.

Dr. Geo. J. Hartung, dentist, late of Colorado Springs, has his sign out here, next door to my office, and will do well, I feel sure.

Yours truly, M. L. DE COURSEY.

The Judge's Strange Story.

From the London Spectator.

Mr. E. Gurney and Mr. F. W. H. Myers publish a further instalment of the strange stories they are collecting, the most remarkable by far being one related by Sir E. Hornby, late chief judge of the consular court of China and Japan, and a man not only of undoubted truthfulness, but of strong rough sense. He was accustomed to allow reporters to call at his house for his written judgments:

"They generally availed themselves of the opportunity, especially one reporter, who was also the editor of an evening paper. He was a peculiar man, reticent about himself, and I imagine had a history. In appearance he was also peculiar. I only knew him as a reporter, and had no other relations with him. On the day which the event occurred, in 1875 or 1876, I went to my study an hour or two after dinner, and wrote out my judgment. It was then about half past 11. I rang for the butler, gave him the envelope, and told him to give it to the reporter who should call for it. I was in bed before 12. I am a very light sleeper, and my wife a very heavy one. Indeed it is difficult to rouse her out of her first sleep. The bed—a French one faced the fireplace; on the mantelpiece was a clock, and the gas in the chandelier was turned down, but only so low as to admit of my seeing the time at any time of the night, for—waking easily and frequently—I often smoked a cigarette before I went to sleep again, and always desired to know the hour. I had gone to sleep, when I was awakened by hearing a tap at the study door, but thinking it might be the butler—looking in to see if the fire were safe and the gas turned off—I turned over with the view of getting to sleep again. Before I did so, I heard a tap at my bedroom door. Still thinking it might be the butler, who might have something to say, I said, 'Come in.' The door opened, and to my surprise, in walked Mr. . I sat up and said: 'You have mistaken the door; but the butler has the judgment, so go and get it.' Instead of leaving the room he came to the foot edge of the bed. I said; 'Mr. , you forget yourself! Have the goodness to walk out directly. This is rather an abuse of my favor. He looked deadly pale, but was dressed in his usual dress, and was certainly quite sober, and said: 'I know I am guilty of an unwarrantable intrusion, but finding that you were not in your study I have ventured to come in here.' I was losing my temper, but something in the man's manner disinclined me to jump out of bed to eject him by force. So I said simply: 'This is too bad, really; pray leave the room at once.' Instead of doing so, he put one hand on the footrail, and gently, and as if in pain, sat down on the foot of the bed. I glanced at the clock and saw that it was about twenty minutes past 1. I said 'The butler has had the judgment since half past 11; go and get it.' He said: 'Pray forgive me; if you knew all the circumstances you would. Time presses. Pray give me a precis of your judgment, and I will take a note in my book of it,' drawing his reporter's book out of his breast-pocket. I said 'I will do nothing of the kind. Go down stairs, find the butler, and don't disturb me—you will wake my wife; otherwise I shall have to put you out.' He slightly moved his hand. I said: 'Who let you in?' He answered: 'No one.' 'Confound it,' I said, 'what the devil do you mean? Are you drunk?' He replied quietly 'No, and never shall be again; but I pray your lordship give me your decision, for my time is short.' I said: 'You don't seem to care about my time, and this is the last time I shall ever allow a reporter in my house.' He stopped me short, saying: 'This is the last time I shall ever see you anywhere.' "Well, fearful that this commotion might arouse and frighten my wife, I shortly gave him the gist of my judgment in as few words as I could. He seemed to be taking it down in shorthand; it might have been two or three minutes. When I finished, he rose, thanked me for excusing his intrusion and for the consideration I had always shown him and his colleagues, opened the door and went away. I looked at the clock; it was on the stroke of half past 1 (Lady Hornby now awoke, thinking she had heard talking; and her husband told her what had happened, and repeated the account when dressing next morning.) I went to the court a little before 10. The usher came into my room to robe me, when he said: 'A sad thing happened last night, sir.' Poor was found dead in his room.' I said: 'Bless my soul! dear me! What did he die of, and when?' 'Well, sir, it appears he went up to his room as usual at 10 to work at his papers. His wife went up about 12 to ask him when he would be ready for bed. He said: "I have only the judge's judgment to get ready and then I have finished." As he did not come, she went up again, about a quarter to 1, to his room and peeped in, and thought she saw him writing, but she did not disturb him. At half-past one she again went to him and spoke to him at the door. As he did not answer she thought he had fallen asleep, so she went up to arouse him. To her horror he was dead. On the floor was his note book, which I have brought away. She sent for the doctor, who arrived a little after two and said he had been dead, he concluded, about an hour.' I looked at the note book. There was the usual heading: 'In the Supreme court, before the chief judge. — v. —. The chief judge gave judgment this morning in the case to the following effect'—and then followed a few lines of indecipherable shorthand."

The reporter, it should be added, neither had nor could have left the house. We confess we do not see how Mr. Myers' theory of thought transference explains that story at all. The reporter never thought of sitting at the foot of Sir E. Hornby's bed.

PRACTICAL ESSAYS. By Alexander Bain, LL.D., author of "Mind and Body," "Education as a Science," etc. 12mo, cloth, price $1.50.

"The present volume is in great part a reprint of articles contributed to reviews. The principal bond of union between them is their practical character. That there is a certain amount of novelty in the various suggestions here embodied will be admitted on the most cursory perusal."—From the preface.

THE STORY OF THE COUP D'ETAT. By M. de Maupas, Prefect of Police. One volume, 12mo, cloth, price $1.75.

"The author of the work was one of the leading actors, or rather managing directors, in the coup d'etat which, in December, 1852, placed Louis Napoleon on the throne of France. In order that he might more effectually assist in that desperate stroke, he was at his own request appointed to the prefecture of police. To him, therefore, fell the task of arranging for the arrest of such of the deputies as were likely to give trouble, and he relates with something like pride how perfectly he succeeded in accomplishing his purpose. The notes of the editor are judiciously interspersed, and are useful in recalling facts to which no more than passing allusion is made in the text."—The Bookseller.

THE RIVER CONGO. From its mouth to Bolobo. With a General Description of the Natural History and Anthropology of its Western Basin. By H. H Johnston. 8vo cloth, $7.00.

"No quarter of the globe surpasses Central Asia in present interest, and Mr. H H. Johnston has written an instructive account of his careful exploration of the river Congo from its mouth to Bolobo. He writes as a traveler, as an artist, and as a naturalist, and gives encouraging pictures of the development of a very wonderful region."—[Literary World.

STATE OF COLORADO, }
County of El Paso. } ss.

In the County Court of said County, sitting for probate business.

The People of the State of Colorado send Greeting

To Lemuel L Hall, Augusta Hall, Talmadge Parsons, Joseph Wood, Caroline Parsons, Alice A. Babcock and Levi Parsons

Whereas, an instrument in writing purporting to be the last will and testament of Caroline Parsons, late of said county, deceased, has been presented by Matthew Kennedy, of Colorado Springs, Colorado, to the county court of said county for probate, and the 25th day of August, 1884, has been set for hearing the application for the probate of said instrument as the said last will and testament of said Caroline Parsons, deceased; and, whereas, it appears from said instrument, and other satisfactory evidence, that said deceased died seized and possessed of real and personal estate in this state, and that you, Lemuel L Hall and Augusta Hall are named as executors of the said will, and you, the other above named persons, are heirs at-law of said deceased, therefore, you are hereby notified to be and appear before the county court of El Paso county, at the court house in Colorado Springs, on the 25th day of August, 1884, then and there to attend the probate of said will, before said court, and further to do and perform what shall then, by the said court be required and adjudged

PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

—TO THE—

Constitution of the State of Colorado.

PUBLIC NOTICE

Is hereby given that at the general election to be held in the several wards and precincts of the state on the fourth (4) day of November, A. D., 1884 and pursuant to the provisions of an act of the general assembly of the state of Colorado, passed at the fourth session thereof, being an act entitled

"An act to submit to the qualified electors of the state of Colorado amendments to sections "six (6), nineteen (19), and twenty two (22), of "article five (5), of the constitution of the state "of Colorado concerning legislative department." Approved February 11, 1884. The following proposed amendments to the constitution of the state of Colorado will be submitted to the qualified electors of said state for their approval or rejection, which when ratified by a majority of those voting thereon shall be valid as a part of the constitution of said state that is to say Section six (6), of article five (5) of the constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows to wit "

"SECTION 6—Each member of the general assembly, until otherwise provided by law, shall "receive, as compensation for his services, seven dollars ($7.00) for each day's attendance and fifteen (15) cents for each mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning from the seat of government, and shall receive no other compensation, perquisite, or allowance whatsoever No session of the general assembly shall exceed ninety days No general assembly shall fix its own compensation"

"Section nineteen (19) of article five (5), of the Constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows, to wit "

"SECTION 19—No act of the general assembly shall take effect until ninety days after its passage, except in case of emergencies which shall be expressed in the act [and] the general assembly shall by a vote of two thirds of all the members elected to each house otherwise direct No bill, except the general appropriation bill for the expenses of the government only, introduced in either house of the general assembly after the first thirty days of the session shall become a law "

"Section twenty two (22), of said article five (5), of the constitution of the state of Colorado shall be amended so as to read as follows to wit."

"SECTION 22—Every bill shall be read by title "when introduced, and at length on two different "days in each house, all substantial amendments made thereto shall be printed for the "use of the members before the vote is taken on "the bill, and no bill shall become a law except "by a vote of a majority of all the members "elected to each house, nor unless on its final "passage the vote be taken by ayes and noes "and the names of those voting be entered on "the journal "

"And by said act submitting said amendments it is further provided that"

"Each elector voting at said election and desirous of voting for or against all of the amendments as a whole, shall deposit in the ballot box a ticket whereon shall be written or printed the words, 'For the amendments,' or the words, 'Against the amendments' Any such elector not desirous of voting as aforesaid may express his approval or rejection of any one or more of said amendments as in the other case; Provided, That he shall designate any amendment so approved or rejected by him, by number in the order in which it occurs in this act, "and that" the votes cast for the adoption or rejection of said amendments or of either of them shall be canvassed and the result determined in the manner provided by the laws of the state for the canvass of votes for representative in congress "

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and affixed the great seal of the state of Colorado, at Denver, in said state, this First day of August, A D 1884

HOUGHTON, MIFFLIN & CO'S

NEW BOOKS.

A COUNTRY DOCTOR. A novel. By Sarah Orne Jewett, author of "Deephaven," "Country By-Ways," etc, 16mo, $1.25.

In this novel Miss Jewett uses on a larger scene and with increased effect the qualities which have made her short stories so popular and so thoroughly delightful. A woman physician figures in it, but the story is quite unlike the novels by Mr. Howells and Miss Phelps in which women physicians are the heroines. It gives wonderfully accurate pictures of New England characters, customs and scenery; the heroine is "one of our girls" and as such will charm readers as few heroines do in current novels. The freshness, the sincerity, the helpful sympathy, which render Miss Jewett's stories at once so attractive and wholesome, pervade "A Country Doctor," and can hardly fail to make it one of the most widely popular and welcome of this summer's novels.

THE FATE OF MANSFIELD HUMPHREYS. With the Episode of Mr. Washington Adams in England, and an Apology. By Richard Grant White. 16mo, $1 25

This is one of the most entertaining of "international" books, in which the mutual misconceptions and prejudices of Englishmen and Americans are developed and illustrated.

PHŒBE. A Novel. By the author of "Rutledge." 16mo, $1,25.

An American story in character and incidents, told with so much life and spirit that it will be hailed as a special boon by novel readers. To a multitude looking for summer reading, this story needs no other recommendation than that it is by the author of "Rutledge "

THE AMERICAN HORSEWOMAN. By Elizabeth Karr, Illustrated, 12mo, $2.00.

An admirably practical book. The selection and management of a horse, all the details of equipment, every separate article of dress that the rider should wear, and the making of it—all these are described specifically; and the book is made still more useful by illustrative cuts, the whole forming a manual of great value to any lady who would become thoroughly skillful in the equestrienne art.

SUMMER. From the Journals of H. D. Thoreau, author of "Walden," "Cape Cod," etc. Edited by H. G. O. Blake. With a map of Concord 12mo, gilt top, $1 50.

This book comprises selections from Thoreau's Journals containing observations and reflections during the summers of many years. Some of these are descriptive, with that fine photographic accuracy which marks Thoreau's picture's of natural scenes Other passages contain those subtle reflections on society, religion, laws, literature, which also characterize whatever Thoreau wrote, and which pique the curiosity and stimulate the minds of his readers.
